

Top Ten Touch Points

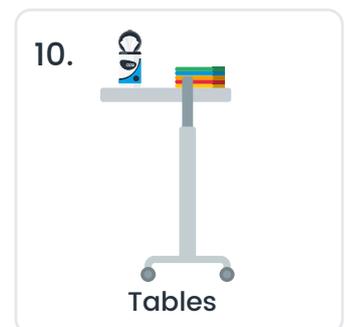

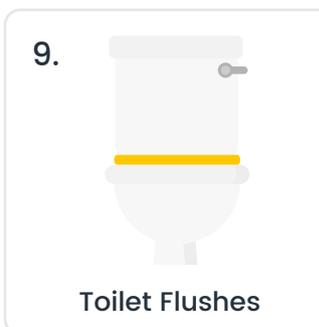

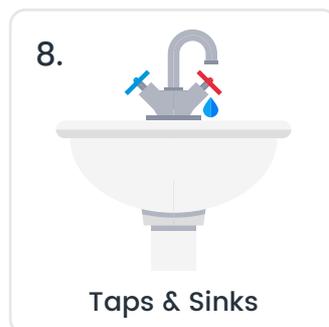

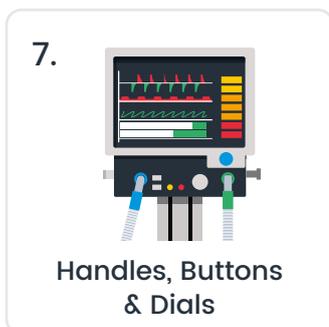

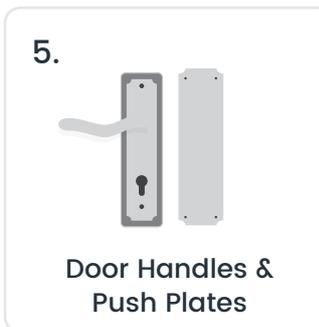

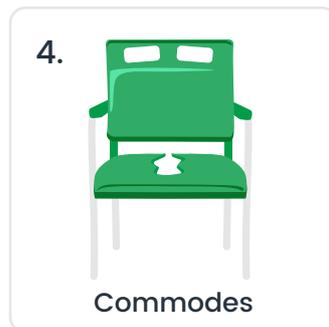

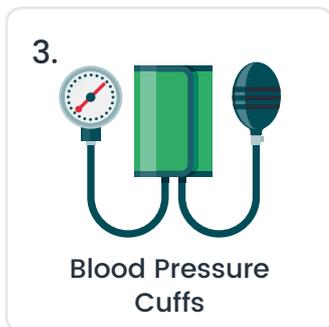

Surface cleaning & disinfection is one of the most effective ways to stop the spread of infection. Various studies have shown that contaminated surfaces are an established route of transmission for high-risk pathogens.¹

The Importance of Effective Surface Cleaning & Disinfection

The Covid-19 pandemic has reinforced why it is so important to practice good hygiene and ensure surfaces, particularly those that are classed as 'high-risk', are cleaned and disinfected frequently.

Below is a checklist of the top ten touch points within a healthcare facility that require frequent cleaning and disinfection.

Did You Know?

Study finds there are over 93 contact episodes per hour between patients, staff and visitors, demonstrating the potential for cross-infection.²

The Azo™ range offers a full product portfolio for effective surface cleaning and disinfection including Detergent, Disinfectant and Universal wipes.

Top Ten Touch Points

Surface cleaning & disinfection is one of the most effective ways to stop the spread of infection. Various studies have shown that contaminated surfaces are an established route of transmission for high-risk pathogens!

1.

Door Handles & Push Plates

2.

Light Switches

The Importance of Effective Surface Cleaning & Disinfection

The Covid-19 pandemic has reinforced why it is so important to practice good hygiene and ensure surfaces, particularly those that are classed as 'high-risk', are cleaned and disinfected frequently.

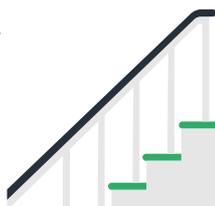

Below is a checklist of the top ten touch points that require frequent cleaning and disinfection.

3.

Handles, Buttons & Dials

4.

Banisters & Hand Rails

5.

Taps & Sinks

6.

Toilet Flushes

7.

Keyboards

8.

Phones

9.

Armrests

10.

Tables

Did You Know?

Research has found that 81% of consumers claim that regular cleaning of high-traffic surfaces would make them feel more comfortable visiting shared areas amid the coronavirus outbreak.²

The Azo™ range offers a full product portfolio for effective surface cleaning and disinfection including Detergent, Disinfectant and Universal wipes.